At 10 o'clock the weather was clearing, but a stiff breeze was blowing; and it was still feared that the race would not was still feared that the race would not come off. But as the minutes passed the weather became more settled, and at twenty minutes past eleven the crews took their positions in the following order: First, Williams; second, Cornell; third, Amberst; fourth, Bowdoin; firth, Brown; sixth, Columbia; seventh, Wesleyan; eighth, Princeton; ninth, Yale; teuth, Hamilion; eleventh, Harvard; twelfth, Union. twelfth, Union.

THEY START-CORNELL VICTORIOUS. At 12:05 the lake was much smoother, and the start was made. The boats went off evenly, Cornell and Harvard shooting ahead after the first few yards. Before reaching the end of the first mile Cornell was several lengths ahead of Harvard, and held it to the end, winning the race. Time: 16:58½. Official.

Columbia came in second and Harvard third.

SARATOGA, July 14.—After finishing the race the Cornell crew came in shore with a fresh look, and were selzed by the boys of Cernell college, who carried them by the grand stand with loud oneers. The time of the 1st mile was 6:40; the second mile, 5:27; the two and one-half miles, 18:15; the third mile, 16:46%. At the last buoy five of the boats were almost in a direct line. The struggle at the finish was magnificent, and both Columbia and Harvard made excellent spurts, but in vain, to win the contest.

AEWS FROM CHICAGO.

CONDITION OF MRS. ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
CHICAGO, July 14.—A Post and Mail correspondent has recently visited Mrs. Abraham Lincols at the private retreat for the insane located at Batavia, Illinols, where she resides, and finds her condition muchanged. The superintendent in charge was unwilling to express an opinion, but evidently didn's think the prospects for ultimate recovery encouraging. Mrs. Lincoln is surrounded with every comfort, and is visited every week by her son, Robert, of this city, to whom she seems to have become reconciled. She is very quiet, and, although her vagaries are perhaps increasing, she would scarcely be considered insane by a casual observer. CONDITION OF MRS. ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

SCHOONER VS. SLOOP RACE AT CAPE MAY.

CAPE MAY, N. J., July 14.—The race yesterday was accompanied by excellent weather and a splendid breezs. The start was all that could be desired. The following yachts entered: Schooners Madeline, Mohawk, Resolute, Rambler, idler, Ada, Sunshine, Dreadnaught and Creely, and the sloops Sadie, Raizer Wilhelm, Vindex and Whitewing. The wind was south by southwest. At 10:17 the first gun was fired; at 10:32 the signal to start was given. The Resolute passed first, the Idler next, then the Sunshine, Creely and Mohawk. The passed first, the Idler next, then the Sunshine, Creely and Mohawk. The Dreadnaught and the balance of the fleet came well together. The wind was good from the start.

The Madeline came up last, saving herself by two seconds from being barred out of the race. It was evident from the start that the race would be between the Madeline and Mohawk. The vessels steadily forged ahead, but the Mohawk taking the third place and the Madeline going to the center. After a few miles run the Idler took the lead from the Resolute. The committee boat, Tallaposa, which had been far behind, lighted twelve out of fourteen and passed in quick succession the Sunshine, Whitewing, Kaizer, Wilhelm and John Creely. Near the light-ship the Rambler passed the Eva and went well to the front.

The Madeline in the meantime had overhauled the Eva followed by the Vinthe Eva and went well to the front.

The Madeline in the meantime had overhauled the Eva, followed by the Vindex, Kaizer Wilhelm, Dreadnaught, Creely and Sunshine, with the sloops in the distance scarcely visible. As she neared the light-ship the Mohawk, by a series of clever tacks, passed the Resolute, and took second place. As the yachts rounded the boat three miles iesward of the light-ship, the breeze feeward of the light-ship, the breeze freshened and the Mohawk gained stead-ily on the Idler and soon led her, the Resolute being third and the Rambler well up.

About the time the Madeline lost her gaff, it was now evident that the race was between the Mohawk and the Idler with time allowance favoring the Mohawk. The Vindex was in the van of the sloop, and the Creely and Sunshine far to the rear. In the race home the Mohawk was first over the line, and was saluted with cheers and the tiring of a gun.

The Idler was 20, and Madeline 30, followed by the Rambler. Making the distinction of time allowance, the Madeline was decided the winner of the schooner cutries, and the Vindex of the sloop entries. The Island was beautifully illuminated and decorated at night, and a grand reception ball was given at the Stockton House in honor of the yacht men and their guests.

The prizes were presented to the winning yachts previous to the opening of the ball. There will be a race to-day open to an. Thus far the regatta has been a green success.

Police has been informed.

JULIUS MENTEL, who was reported killed on a railroad train in Illinois, was arrested last evening in Aurora, Indiana, by Colonel Snelbaker and Detective Kushman, on a charge of being implicated in the late wholesale robbery at Jeffras, Seeley & Co.'s store. He was brought to the Ninth-street Station and arraigned in the Police Court this morning on the charge of receiving stolen goods. His case was continued till next Friday, his bail being fixed at $1,000. In his trunk was found a new suit of broadcloth, which is supposed to have been stolen, as he attempted, some time ago, to obtain a suit by false pretenses from a tailor over the Rhine. The suit awaits identification at the Chief's office. The story of Mentel's death was caused by an accident to another man of nearly the same name.

A Shurp Thief Succeeds in Getting $1 78 Emilie Rickey, a woman residing on Scott street in Covington, was last night robbed of a considerable sum of money in a simple yet ingenious manner.

She had $175 in greenbacks in her possession, which she desired to put in the care of Mrs. Mary Cunningiam, who lives at No. 18 West Third street, in this city. Mrs. Rickey came over yesterday and gave the colored woman the money. Sam McKibben, a man about five feet ten inches in height, light complected, curly sandy-colored nair, was present in the room at the time. He took the money, and to all appearances looked the trunk after having put in the money.

McKibben, however, did not, it is supposed, look the trunk, but merely turned the key, which he handed over to the woman. He then lett, and after the ladies had gone, returned, it is supposed,

THE RIVER FRESHET.

Outpouring of Small Streams, and Great

Damage to Property.

The great flood, instead of abating, seems growing to a larger and more dangerous extent. Licking river continues pouring out rapidly, and bringing with it large quantities of heavy logs, driftwood and fence rails. It is impossible to ascertain the extent of damage along the Licking Valley. Here the river is rising rapidly.

From six o'clock last evening to six o'clock this morning the Onio had risen at the rate of five inches per hour, or in round figures had swollen 6 feet and 7 inches, with 25 feet in the channel by the Water-works marks.

Up to 12 M. to-day, the rise had been two feet, with 27 feet large in the channel, and still rising rapidly, with only 75 feet space under the Covington Suspension bringe for passing steamers and 78 feet under the Newport bridge.

Accumulated freight along the whart is being speedily removed in anticipation of a regular flood.

Inmates of Hat and Sausage Rows have already begun making tracks and seeking better quarters.

Our river telegrams above here report all the side streams booming. For instance, at Middleport there is over 15 feet in the channel, back water from the Kanawha, and at Churleston, W. Va., the river has attained a height of 25 feet.

The current was so strong there last the river has attained a height of 25 feet.

The current was so strong there last night, that a very powerful log raft valued at $1,000 was swept away, and running against the sunken steamer, Chara Scott, carried the wreck away with it.

At Gallipolls, O., there is also 25 feet, and the river rising rapidly. At this point the five barges belonging to the towboat Hawkeye broke loose.

One was sunk at Beach Hill, and two were caught and safely landed by the little steamer Wild Gazelle.

News has reached Gattipolis that there is a great flood is Coal river, and a terrible destruction of property.

At Ironton last night the river rose over seven feet, and to-day is still rising at the rate of eight inches per hour.

A fleet of sixty empty barges belonging to the Ashland Company broke loose, and went clashing against one another some distance down the river, but were flually broken loose, caught and landed by the steamers Thos. W. Means and Tom Farrow. The river is full of trees, logs and rafts.

At Cattletteburg, Kentucky, the river is running out in perfect torrents. The steamer Sam Cravens has been swamped at the mouth of Big Bandy river, and the residence of Mrs. Looman, on Southeast Front street, and the Thompson House, have been washed away by the water undermining the banks and their caving in.
